

PRINT & DIGITAL COPYING INFORMATION

Your institution has an Access Choice licence that provides convenient, pre-cleared permission to copy and distribute portions of more than 100-million published titles.

What can I copy under Access Choice?

You can copy portions of any publication in Access Copyright's extensive repertoire. Use this convenient lookup tool to confirm that the titles you wish to copy are covered.

Access Choice combines pre-cleared, pre-paid coverage for day-to-day copying distributed in print handouts or emails; along with pre-cleared, pay-per-use coverage for paper and digital course collections. Please contact your institution's licence administrator or service provider for further detail about using the pay-per-use portion of the licence.

How much of a covered title can I copy?

You can copy up to 20% of a book or an entire article from a magazine, journal or newspaper. This can include a complete chapter, short story, poem, or an entire artistic work. There are no limits on the quantity of copies you can reproduce, or the overall volume of copying.

How can I create copies?

Copies can be created by photocopying, scanning, printing, faxing, uploading to secure network, or saving to a hard drive or USB stick. A pay-per-use page rate applies for paper and digital course collections.

How can I distribute or display copying?

You are pre-authorized and pre-paid for print handouts, emails and classroom display. You can also create copies for paper and digital course collections. A pay-per-use page rate applies for paper and digital course collections. Please contact your institution's licence administrator or service provider for further detail about using the pay-per-use portion of the licence.

Can I request permission to copy beyond the limits?

Yes, you can request permission to copy beyond the limits of an individual book or periodical. Over-limit permissions, where available, are subject to pay-per-use pricing and can be requested through our lookup tool.

What is Access Copyright?

Access Copyright is a non-profit, national organization, representing tens of thousands of Canadian creators and publishers who create the textbooks, novels, poetry, plays, children's books, artistic works and more that Canadians reach for everyday. For nearly 30 years, we have facilitated the remixing and sharing of content combined with an assurance that original creators and publishers also benefit, so that they can continue creating new and innovative works.
